

Q: Vote Forward says to mail letters anytime between October 1 and October 29. What's the best day to send them?

A: We recommend that you either

1) mail your letters a few days before early voting starts in each state but not before October 1st (see below for early voting start dates) or

2) mail them on or near, but not after, October 29.

The first strategy provides a reminder just as early voting opens. The second strategy makes sure letters arrive after early voting has started in all states, but still before Election Day.
